

WRITING PIE CHART UPDATE: Two percentages for the first writing pie chart on the 2005-2006 School Accountability Reports were incorrectly displayed – Advanced and Proficient percentages were inadvertently transposed. This transposition is solely isolated to the rendering of the graphical pie chart, and in no way affects other results or calculations. An illustration of the transposition is attached and displayed below:

Unfortunately, CDE is unable to re-print and re-distribute all printed reports. The School Accountability Reports website will be updated on Friday December 15 to reflect the corrected pie chart, and an official CDE letter will be sent to all district superintendents.
