Instructions for use of Written Description of Curricula Form:

The Written Description of Curricula document is to be used by students who are habitually truant (have four unexcused absences in one month or ten unexcused absences in one calendar year in the six months prior to deciding to homeschool their child) and their parents have opted to homeschool. State statute requires that such students provide their school district with a written description of curriculum to be taught prior to the establishment of a home-based program. Please read statute below.

CRS 22-33-104.5 (3)(b) A child who is participating in a nonpublic home-based educational program shall not be subject to compulsory school attendance as provided in this article; except that any child who is habitually truant, as defined in section 22-33-107 (3), at any time during the last six months that a child attended school before proposed enrollment into a nonpublic home-based educational program may not be enrolled in the program unless the child's parents first submit a written description of the curricula to be used in the program along with the written notification of establishment of the program required in paragraph (e) of this subsection (3) to any school district within the state.

In School District 11, both the "Notice of Intent to Homeschool" form and the written description of the curricula to be used in the program must be filed with the Homeschool Office before a child may be removed from the school.

The following page of Written Description of Curricula document is designed to be a Notice of Intent to homeschool. The first four (4) pages of the Written Description of Curricula document cover subject areas required by the state statute. You must provide a plan (how many hours per day, and concepts to be taught), as well as the title, author, publisher, and table of contents page for each book you plan to use to teach the required subjects before the School District 11 School Administrator (at the school from which your child(ren) is withdrawing) can approve your curriculum.

In the event that you will not be using a formal set of curriculum(textbooks) but rather a mixture of materials for one particular subject area, all materials to be used should be listed along with the table of contents for each book (Photocopies are accepted).

District 11 does not provide parents/guardians with curriculum if they wish to exercise their option to homeschool.

If you wish your student to get credit for the work they do at home then you must provide the school with a portfolio of work for each subject, that will be evaluated for credit by the appropriate department or individual at the school in which you are seeking admission. Providing a portfolio is no guarantee that credit will be awarded to that student. If a student does not have nor provide a portfolio the final examination for the course in which credit is being sought can be administered to the student at the discretion of the school to which you are seeking admission.

If you have any questions, please feel free to call the D11 Home School Office at 328-3072 or visit the office at RJWAC (Roy J Wasson Academic Center)
2155 Afton Way, Colorado Springs CO 80909.
