

KEEPING OUR SCHOOL FOCUSED ON ACADEMICS

Now that your child is in middle school, celebrations for students become complicated. Instead of 28 classmates, there are 230 and they all eat lunch together. In order to be fair and to safeguard those with challenged immune systems, we do NOT allow lunchtime parties for students. This includes special food deliveries for a small group (such as pizza), cupcakes, pop, chips, etc. Deliveries from food delivery services (GrubHub, etc.) will not be accepted.

What are your options?

- You are welcome to bring food for just you and your student and meet your child in the lunchroom.
- You may check your student out of the building for lunch.
- You may contact your student's instructors to see if anyone is willing to host a celebration in a specific classroom under the instructor's direct supervision during that grade's scheduled lunch time.

North's general policy regarding deliveries to students is as follows: anything other than school-related items will be held in the Attendance Office for the student to pick up at the end of the day. This applies to cupcakes, flowers, balloons, etc.

These items quickly become classroom distractions. Thank you for your help as we continue to help all students focus on academics at North!
