

Process for Documenting Special Dietary Needs

CSSD11 will not make school meal modifications for requests that do not rise to the level of a disability, including;

- * Food sensitivity that can be accommodated through menu choices
- * Dietary preferences for religious, ethical, or cultural reasons, or general health concerns

A disability is considered a physical or mental impairment which substantially limits one or more major life activity.

