The Hate U Give Collage

By Elizabeth Will

Why I chose this

- This poster was for me aimed to represent the entire book and scenes from the movie. I chose the movie roll to hold the scenes from the movie. The Carter's store in the top right represents the accumulated hate from the previous events, and the girl in the middle represents voice and strength. The little images along the sides of the poster and some of Starr's most prized possessions. Including the trio's wands, basketball hoops, and a movie clapperboard.

Global Context

Fairness and Development:

- While doing this project I believe at the end the Global Context "Fairness and Development" represents this poster best. It represent the consequences of humanity's actions. Including all the hate that was displayed throughout the novel. The poster demonstrates voice and equal treatment for every race.

Approaches to learning

Thinking Skills: This skill was required to produce a general idea and incorporate my ideas into one poster. The project required creative thinking abilities for the poster format.

Research Skills: The book, "The Hate U Give" was my main source of research. Images for reference were required for research and background context.

Reflection

- If I had to redo this project. I would've added more color and possibly a few quotes expanding as they came out of the microphone. Overall, I believe this poster represents my intended outcome, and the point I was trying to convey. During this project I learned that everybody's voice means a lot, and you need to speak out if you want your opinions heard.
