Patterns of Power: Inviting Young Writers into the Conventions of Language

Anderson, Jeff

Jeff Anderson uses mentor sentences to explore the conventions of writing, instead of using conventions worksheets. His process of inviting writers to look and make meaning of conventions using authentic texts. The invitational process allows students to take part in different routines including noticing, comparing and contrasting, imitating, celebrating, applying and editing grammar and conventions. The second part of this book includes mentor lesson sets and sentences that can be implemented in the classroom.

Digging Into Literature		Wolfe, Joanna, Wilder, Laura Copyright 2016	English	12 12
	Digging into Literature reveals the critical strategies that any college student can use for reading, analyzing, and writing about literacy texts. The authors' unique approach is based on groundbreaking studies of the successful interpretive and rhetorical moves of hundreds of professionals and student essays. Full of practical charts and summaries -- with plenty of exercises and activities for trying out the strategies -- the book convincingly reveals that while great literature is complex, writing effectiveness essays about it doesn't have to be. Standards: Reading for All Purposes Submitted by: Glenn Hawthorne, Teacher, Doherty High School
Mandarin B Grammer and Skills Workbook for the IB Diploma		Burch, Yan Copyright 2019	Foreign Language	9 12
	This book provides essential grammar practice for all students studying ab initio, standard and higher levels. Each grammar topic begins with a brief key message or summary of the grammar point, followed by exercises suitable for beginners, with a wide coverage of ab initio specified vocabulary content. The chosen literary works exemplify prescribed themes of the Lang B Course, which helps students to broaden their vocabulary and use language to express opinions and explore ideas. The creative writing section covers the skills of understanding and writing in different text types. Standards: Communication, Cultures, Comparisons, Connections Submitted by: Carolyn Moyer, Teacher, Palmer High School
